

LIN360H5 Fall2020: Historical Linguistics

Department of Language Studies

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO
MISSISSAUGA

Land Acknowledgment

For thousands of years the land on which the University of Toronto operates has been occupied by the Huron-Wendat, the Seneca, and most recently, the Mississaugas of the Credit River, who are currently the acknowledged caretakers. The territory is subject to the Dish With One Spoon Wampum Belt Covenant, an agreement between the Haudenosaunee Confederacy, the Anishinaabeg, and allied nations to peaceably share and care for the resources around the Great Lakes. Today, this meeting place is the home to many Indigenous people from across Turtle Island, and we are grateful to have the opportunity to live, work, and teach on this land.

Course and instructor information

LIN360H5F Historical Linguistics (HUM)

This course will provide a historical perspective on the study of languages with a focus on processes of phonetic, morphological, syntactic and semantic evolution, on methods of historical reconstruction, such as the comparative method and internal reconstruction, and on major sound laws. [24L, 12T]

Prerequisites	LIN229H5 and (LIN231H5 or LIN232H5 or LIN237H5 or LIN247H5)
Exclusions	LIN362H1
Lecture	Mondays 11:00-13:00 (online synchronous using Bb Collaborate)
Tutorial	Wednesdays 16:00-17:00 (online synchronous using Bb Collaborate)
Office hours	Tuesdays 13:00-14:00 using Bb Collaborate
Instructor	Michelle Troberg	troberg.teaching@utoronto.ca

Course design

Course Description and Goals

The aim of this course is to introduce students to the field of diachronic linguistics: its relationship to general linguistics, its primary research methods, and its major achievements. Students will gain practical experience solving classic language change problems, analysing language relatedness in typologically diverse languages, and reading contemporary literature in the field.

Key Learning Outcomes

1. Develop a theoretically informed answer to the following questions:
 - What is language? How do languages change?
2. Identify and analyse various types of language change: phonetic, phonological, borrowing, analogy, morphological, and syntactic
3. Relate various types of change to possible mechanisms/causes
4. Analyse and interpret complex data sets
5. Apply the comparative method to problems of linguistic reconstruction
6. Express information, arguments, and analyses accurately and with clarity
7. Recognise and explain some of the limitations and confounding factors in historical data and the limitations of the methodology.

Assessment

Participation	10%		Ongoing Preparedness, interventions, questions, office hours, reflective comments, positive role in group work
			Assesses your engagement in the course and the material
Pre- and post-lecture exercises	20%	Best 20	Twice weekly: Online Pre-lecture due Mondays 9:00 am EST Post-lecture due Wednesdays noon (12:00 pm) EST
			Assesses outcomes 2 & 3 in addition to your engagement in the course and the material
Homework assignments	50%	10% x 5	Approximately every two weeks: due Mondays 9:00 am EST
			Assesses all outcomes
Language report	20%	10% x 2	Due Monday 9:00 am EST in weeks 6 & 13 groups of 4
			Assesses outcomes 2, 6 & 7

Weekly Rhythm

- Monday Lecture: 11:00-13:00 EST.
 - Synchronous via Bb Collaborate. Lectures will consist of a series of mini-lessons (delivered by me in real time), interspersed by questions, discussion, and time to work through problem sets. The approach is interactive and practical.
- Post-lecture exercise: weekly; due Wednesday at noon EST.
- Tuesday Office hour: 13:00-14:00 EST
 - Informal, drop-in via Bb Collaborate
- Wednesday Lecture: 16:00-17:00 EST.
 - Synchronous via Bb Collaborate. This hour (delivered by me in real time) will continue our discussion of the material introduced on Monday, with a focus on questions and problem solving.
- Homework: biweekly; due Monday at 9:00 am EST
- Pre-lecture exercise: weekly; due Monday at 9:00 am EST

- Tentative Schedule

Week	Date	Topic	Reading	Assessment
1	Sept. 8-13	Syllabus & brief introduction		post- exercise
2	Sept. 14-20	Introduction, Language, Language change	Campbell Introduction	pre- and post-exercises
3	Sept. 21-27	Sound change I	Campbell Ch.2 (through 2.7)	pre- and post-exercises HW1
4	Sept. 28-Oct. 4	Sound change II	Campbell Ch.2 (2.8 onward)	pre- and post-exercises
5	Oct. 5-11	Borrowing & Analogy	Campbell Ch.3&4	pre- and post-exercises HW2
Reading Week	Oct.12-18	Language Report Part I

Week	Date	Topic	Reading	Assessment
6	Oct. 19-25	Comparative method I	Campbell Ch.5 (through 5.3)	pre- and post- exercises Language Report Part I
7	Oct. 26- Nov.1	Comparative method II	Campbell Ch.5 (5.4 onward)	pre- and post- exercises HW3
8	Nov.2-8	Language classification	Campbell Ch.6	pre- and post- exercises
9	Nov.9-15	Internal reconstruction	Campbell Ch.8	pre- and post- exercises HW4

Materials

- Our base will be Campbell's Historical Linguistics. We will make thorough use of this text. I recommend purchasing your own hard copy that you can read, re-read, and mark up.
- Campbell, Lyle. 2013. Historical Linguistics: An Introduction. 3rd edition. Cambridge, Mass.: MIT Press.
- Try finding used or new copies online - they are often less expensive than bookstores. An excellent place to look for used copies is <http://tusbe.com>.
- Occasionally, there will be videos to watch and supplementary readings to complete. These will be posted in our Quercus course shell.

Course Policies

General conduct

- We have the expectation that students will treat each other and all faculty, staff, and TAs with respect and honesty. Students can expect the same from us.

Online expectations

- We expect that you will show up to online lectures as you if you were appearing in person: ready to participate and communicate visually and/or orally. Please comply with the University of Toronto tech requirements for online learning.
- For help, visit the UTM Library Learn Anywhere resource website.

Quercus

- Quercus is an essential component of the course. To access the course website, go to the UofT dashboard page at <https://q.utoronto.ca> and log in using your UTORid and password.
- If you do not have a working UTORid, go to <http://www.utorid.utoronto.ca> to activate it.
- If you need help activating your UTORid, contact help.desk@utoronto.ca.
- If you need help accessing Quercus, check <https://q.utoronto.ca/courses/46670>.

Online synchronous delivery and course material

- This course is delivered entirely online. Since it is scheduled as online synchronous, you are expected to be available during the lecture timeslot and your tutorial timeslot, regardless of which time zone you are in.
- The lectures and tutorials will not be recorded, but the pdf lecture slides will be posted before the lecture.
- You may not record any part of the lectures or tutorials.
- You are not authorized to reproduce or distribute course material, in any form or medium.

Email policy

- Please include the course code (LIN360) in the subject line.
- I will only respond to @mail.utoronto.ca email addresses.
- Please address me using my professional title: Professor Troberg
- Please close your email message with your full name (as you wish me to address you).
- Please allow for 48 hours (excluding weekends) for an answer.
- troberg.teaching@utoronto.ca

Reference letter policy

- One of the best things about being an academic instructor is being able to help students pursue their goals by discussing their plans for careers inside or outside of the university. If you are considering applying for a master's program, a job, an internship or a volunteering position, and you would like me to write you a letter of recommendation, please make sure I actually know you. It is very hard to write a reference letter for someone who I've taught but have never spoken with outside of class. In such cases, I will generally turn down reference letter requests because I feel I cannot properly write about a student's potential. So that we come to know each other, please actively participate in the course (be prepared, curious, reflective, positive, engaged) and if you wish, attend office hours to discuss questions or related interests with me.

Assignment submission

Submission: Assignments are to be submitted electronically via Quercus.

Turnitin: Normally, students will be required to submit their course essays to Turnitin.com for a review of textual similarity and detection of possible plagiarism. In doing so, students will allow their essays to be included as source documents in the Turnitin.com reference database, where they will be used solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism. The terms that apply to the University's use of the Turnitin.com service are described on the Turnitin.com web site.

Students are permitted to opt out of using Turnitin. In order to do so, the student must notify the instructor via email by the end of the 3rd week of class. Students who opt-out will submit their assignment to their TA via email and we will meet in order to establish other ways which the TA or instructor will check the work with the same rigour .

Penalty for Lateness

Pre- and post- lecture exercises. Missed submissions cannot be made up for any reason. Since the best 10 pre-exercises and the best 10 post-exercises will count toward your grade, missing one or two will not have a significant effect on the final grade.

Late homework assignments and language reports. A penalty of 5% per calendar day (including week-ends and holidays) up to and including the last day of classes, will be applied by the Instructor. After the last day of classes, a penalty of 10% per calendar day will be applied by the Undergraduate Coordinator on behalf of the Department. Once the assignments have been graded and returned to the class, I will no longer accept late assignments. No penalty will be assigned if a request for special consideration is successful.

- For graded work worth less than 10%
 - Individual Course Instructors have discretion about the way they grant special consideration. In this course, quizzes, which are worth less than 10%, will not receive special consideration.
- For graded work worth more than 10%
 - If you have to miss a homework assignment or language report deadline for reasons beyond your control (e.g. illness or an accident), you may submit a request for special consideration. To submit your request you must
 - 1) complete the Special Consideration Form online on the Department of Language Studies website:
 - <https://www.utm.utoronto.ca/language-studies/student-forms/special-consideration-request>
 - 2) declare your absence on ACORN
- Requests for Submission of Term Work Beyond the last day of classes
 - Students who seek to be granted more time to complete term work beyond the last day of class must submit their request directly to the Department (see above process for Special Consideration). This request covers the period following the last day of classes and ends on the last day of the exam period. Recall that special consideration is only available for the midterm and final tests.

Grading scheme

Students are assigned a grade in each course as follows:

Percentage Grade Value			Grade Definitions
90 - 100	A+	4.0	Excellent	Strong evidence of original thinking; good organization, capacity to analyze and synthesize; superior grasp of subject matter with sound critical evaluations; evidence of extensive knowledge base.
85 - 89	A	4.0
80 - 84	A-	3.7
77 - 79	B+	3.3	Good	Evidence of grasp of subject matter, some evidence of critical capacity and analytic ability; reasonable understanding of relevant issues; evidence of familiarity with the literature.
73 - 76	B	3.0
70 - 72	B-	2.7
67 - 69	C+	2.3	Adequate	Student who is profiting from their university experience; understanding of the subject matter; ability to develop solutions to simple problems in the material.
63 - 66	C	2.0
60 - 62	C-	1.7
57 - 59	D+	1.3	Marginal	Some evidence of familiarity with subject matter and some evidence that critical and analytic skills have been developed.
53 - 56	D	1.0
50 - 52	D-	0.7
0 - 49	F	0.0	Inadequate	Little evidence of even superficial understanding of subject matter; weakness in critical and analytical skills, with limited or irrelevant use of literature.

Your grades

It is recommended that you check your grades regularly on the course webpage and let me know of any discrepancies. If you wish to dispute a grade, please bring it to my attention within a week of the date it was returned to you by sending an email detailing which assignment or quiz it is about, as well as a motivation for the regrading request.

Extra help

If you would like extra help on the course material, please don't hesitate to join me during office hours. If that isn't possible, set up an appointment with me.

The Robert Gillespie Academic Skills Centre (RGASC) also offers many services to students, including individual appointments and academic skills workshops. Learn more about the centre here.

Academic Guidelines

- It is your responsibility to ensure that you have met all prerequisites listed in the UTM Academic Calendar 2020-2021 for this course. If you lack prerequisites, you may be removed from the course up until the last day to add a course. Further information about academic regulations, course withdrawal dates, and credits can be found in the University of Toronto Mississauga Academic Calendar at:
 - <https://student.utm.utoronto.ca/calendar/calendar.pl>
- Please ensure that you comply with and understand all of the academic and non-academic policies, rules and regulations of the University as set out in the Calendar.
- If you need information or support about studying, preparing for exams, note-taking or time management, free workshops and individual advice are available throughout the year from the Robert Gillespie Academic Skills Centre (MN 3251) at 905-828-5406 —
 - <https://www.utm.utoronto.ca/asc/undergraduate-students>

Intellectual property rights

- Please be advised that the intellectual property rights in the material referred to on this syllabus and posted on the course website may belong to the course instructor or other persons. You are not authorized to reproduce or distribute such material, in any form or medium, without the prior consent of the intellectual property owner.
- Violation of intellectual property rights may be a violation of the law and University of Toronto policies and may entail significant repercussions for the person found to have engaged in such act. If you have any questions regarding your right to use the material in a manner other than as set forth in the syllabus, please speak to your instructor.

Academic Conduct

With regard to remote learning and online courses, UTM wishes to remind students that they are expected to adhere to the Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters regardless of the course delivery method. By offering students the opportunity to learn remotely, UTM expects that students will maintain the same academic honesty and integrity that they would in a classroom setting. Potential academic offences in a digital context include, but are not limited to:

- Accessing unauthorized resources (search engines, chat rooms, Reddit, etc.) for assessments.
- Using technological aids (e.g. software) beyond what is listed as permitted in an assessment.
- Posting test, essay, or exam questions to message boards or social media.
- Creating, accessing, and sharing assessment questions and answers in virtual “course groups.”
- Working collaboratively, in-person or online, with others on assessments that are expected to be completed individually.

All suspected cases of academic dishonesty will be investigated following procedures outlined in the Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters. If you have questions or concerns about what constitutes appropriate academic behaviour or appropriate research and citation methods, you are expected to seek out additional information on academic integrity from your instructor or from other institutional resources.

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

- Honesty and fairness are considered fundamental to the University's mission, and, as a result, all those who violate those principles are dealt with as if they were damaging the integrity of the University itself. When students are suspected of cheating or a similar academic offence, they are typically surprised at how formally and seriously the matter is dealt with -- and how severe the consequences can be if it is determined that cheating did occur. The University of Toronto treats cases of cheating and plagiarism very seriously. Please take the time to review the section of Academic Honesty in the Academic Calendar:
- https://student.utm.utoronto.ca/calendar/calendar_detail2.pl?Topic=Academic%20Honesty
- Plagiarism is a serious offence, and it can take several different forms. Two of the most common are: 1) handing in work that was done in conjunction with or by another student and passing it off as your own; and 2) using published work in a way that does not give credit to the author.

- From the Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters: “It shall be an offence for a student to knowingly: represent as one's own any idea or expression of an idea or work of another in any academic examination or term test or in connection with any other form of academic work, i.e. to commit plagiarism. Wherever in the Code an offence is described as depending on “knowing”, the offence shall likewise be deemed to have been committed if the person ought reasonably to have known.” All students must refer to these websites to obtain information on what constitutes plagiarism:
- <https://www.utm.utoronto.ca/academic-integrity/about-us>
- <http://www.writing.utoronto.ca/advice/using-sources/how-not-to-plagiarize>
- If questions arise after reading the material on the websites, consult your instructor.
- Plagiarism will not be tolerated.

Accommodation

- The University provides academic accommodations for students with disabilities in accordance with the terms of the Ontario Human Rights Code. This occurs through a collaborative process that acknowledges a collective obligation to develop an accessible learning environment that both meets the needs of students and preserves the essential academic requirements of the University's courses and programs. For more information on services and resources available to instructors and students, please contact Accessibility Resources and Disability Services at < <https://www.utm.utoronto.ca/accessibility/> >.
- Students with special needs are encouraged to contact the Accessibility Office (2037 Davis Building), 905-828-3847 at < <https://www.utm.utoronto.ca/accessibility/> >. Each year, the Accessibility Office is looking for peer-note takers. It is a great volunteering opportunity and a nice way to show that you care for your peers who need you in something you are good at. If you are interested in helping your peers, please apply to < access.utm@utoronto.ca >.

Student Support

- The Robert Gillespie Academic Skills Centre (RGASC) is located in Room 3251 on the third floor of the Maanjiwe nendamowinan Building. The RGASC offers individual consultations, workshops (many CCR-accredited), and a wide range of programs to help students identify and develop the academic skills they need for success in their studies. Visit the RGASC website to explore their online resources, book a face-to-face or online appointment, or learn about other programming such as Writing Retreats, the Program for Accessing Research Training (PART), drop-in hours for Mathematics, Writing, and Study Skills, and dedicated resources for English Language Learners.

Equity Statement

- The University of Toronto is committed to equity, human rights and respect for diversity. All members of the learning environment in this course should strive to create an atmosphere of mutual respect where all members of our community can express themselves, engage with each other, and respect one another's differences. U of T does not condone discrimination or harassment against any persons or communities. It is our collective responsibility to create a space that is inclusive and welcomes discussion. Discrimination, harassment and hate speech will not be tolerated. If you have any questions, comments, or concerns you may contact the UTM Equity and Diversity officer at edo.utm@utoronto.ca or the University of Toronto Mississauga Students' Union Vice President Equity at vpequity@utmsu.ca.

Academic Rights

- You, as a student at UTM, have the right to:
- Receive a syllabus by the first day of class.
- Rely upon a syllabus once a course is started. An instructor may only change marked assignments by following the University Assessment and Grading Practices Policy provision 1.3.
- Refuse to use turnitin.com (you must be offered an alternative form of submission).
- Have access to your instructor for consultation during a course or follow up with the department chair if the instructor is unavailable.
- Ask the person who marked your term work for a re-evaluation if you feel it was not fairly graded. You have up to one month from the date of return of the item to inquire about the mark. If you are not satisfied with a re-evaluation, you may appeal to the instructor in charge of the course if the instructor did not mark the work. If your work is remarked, you must accept the resulting mark. You may only appeal a mark beyond the instructor if the term work was worth at least 20% of the course mark.
- Receive at least one significant mark (15% for H courses, 25% for Y courses) before the last day you can drop a course for H courses (Fall term: November 11; Winter term: March 7), and the last day of classes in the first week of January for Y courses taught in the Fall/Winter terms.
- Submit handwritten essays so long as they are neatly written.
- Have no assignment worth 100% of your final grade.
- Not have a term test worth more than 25% in the last two weeks of class.
- Retain intellectual property rights to your research.
- Receive all your assignments once graded.
- View your final exams. To see a final exam, you must submit an online Exam Reproduction Request < <https://student.utm.utoronto.ca/examreproduction/> > within 6 months of the exam. There is a small non- refundable fee.
- Privacy of your final grades.
- Arrange for representation from Downtown Legal Services (DLS), a representative from the UTM Students' Union (UTMSU), and/or other forms of support if you are charged with an academic offence.
